

UNTIL 5 INCHES OF SNOW FIREWATCH ON HUNDRED ACRE MEADOW

Fire Chief Arthur Boudreau declared yesterday that it will probably be necessary to continue a 'fire watch' on the Hundred Acre Meadow, west of Route 93 'until there is five inches of snow'.

The large meadow and adjoining woodland was swept by a fire Sunday afternoon which was undoubtedly set by small children playing with matches, according to the Chief. The fire began near West Street and the Boston & Maine Railroad, about 2 pm.

Hundreds of firemen from a dozen towns and cities fought the blaze, which at one point threatened to engulf the home of the McKaba family on Woburn Street. Driven by the wind, the fire swept across the meadow, jumped the Ipswich River in places, and covered Route 93 with an impenetrable blue smoke. The flames, however, were kept by the firemen from crossing Route 93 into Reading and North Reading.

Firetrucks were present from Tewksbury, Burlington, Billerica, Woburn, Reading, North Reading, Andover, North Andover, Lynnfield and Middleton.

State Police stopped all traffic both ways on Route 93 for several hours. Motorists, shunted onto Wilmington roads, did not all 'follow the leader' with the result that many cars became lost.

Church Street, for several hours, was one long line of traffic, southbound, and northbound traffic, diverted at Lowell Street and Route 93, wandered through Reading and North Reading.

Probably the last Wilmington motorist to drive Route 93 before the State Police closed it off was Leslie Durkee of Salem Street. Durkee reported that driving on Route 93, because of the heavy smoke, was extremely dangerous. 'People just stopped their cars, and there was no telling when a speeding car was going to smash into a stalled one'. Durkee got off 93 at the very first opportunity.

The highlight of the afternoon, to Fireman Earl Burns, who was in charge of the fire station, came at 5:20 pm when the Boxford Fire Station, probably 30 miles away, called to tell him that 'you have a fire - probably over near Route 93'.

The Hundred Acre Meadow - the name goes back to 1635 - has many acres of peat - a low grade fuel, interspersed with holes made by muskrats, and it is believed that the peat fires will continue for months.

It was Wilmington's worst fire since October 1947, when hundreds of acres of peatland in North Wilmington and North Reading, north of the State Sanatorium, were devastated by a similar fire.

TM Refuses

Edwards & Kelcey

Town Manager Richard Henneberger yesterday afternoon refused to sign a contract for another study of zoning in Wilmington, this time with the firm of Edwards & Kelcey of Boston.

The Planning Board, two weeks ago, after several weeks of conversation with representatives of the firm, agreed to a study of Wilmington's zoning which was to be completed by the time of the March Town Meeting.

In his letter to the Planning Board, giving reasons for turning down the contract Henneberger said:

I am not going to sign this contract or any special study reports for the following reasons.

(1) It is my feeling that the Planning Board needs more unanimity in their decisions on these matters. I believe further that organizational problems and decisions on what you 'plan to plan' are more important for you for a certain amount of money. And, until after the March meeting, I don't believe that I would even consider any similar service for writing a report.

(2) I believe it would be of utmost importance for you to continue your housekeeping chores and bring up to date your zoning by-laws and sub-division regulations (and the work of the Building Code Committee will certainly be a supplement to these regulations affecting our future growth).

(3) The quote which follows is from a letter of agreement for providing the matching funds from industry. 'In the interest of achieving a planned community for the future, we wish to offer the Town of Wilmington the sum of $8,000 per year with the understanding that this amount will be supplemented with a matching appropriation by the Town for permanent professional planning assistance for the purpose of undertaking planning studies aimed at completing and maintaining an up-to-date Master Plan, and for the purpose of making available to the Town's Planning Board and to the Town at large professional advice on a continuing basis'.

It appears to me from this quotation that the expenditure of funds for additional reports (from the Finance Committee report of October 25, 1965, 'Article 7: We recommend this article for APPROVAL. In view of the fact that at least three professional studies made in the past ten years have all indicated that the best use of this land area is for industrial or commercial purposes, it would appear that approval of this Article is in the best interest of the Town'.) is not the intention of the matching moneys; that it should be clear that it is for the payment of professional planning assistance and advice on a continuing basis. Therefore, it appears that money is not even available for me to sign the proposed contract document.

Veterans Day Ceremonies

The Veterans Day parade will form at Middlesex Avenue and Main Street at 10:15 am. The parade will leave Weinberg's parking lot at 10:30 and will proceed up Main Street to Church Street, down Church Street to the Wilmington Common where Flag raising ceremonies will take place at 11 am.

The veterans organizations feel that a determined effort should be made by all veterans to take part in the ceremonies. Because of the crucial situation in Viet Nam, the organizations believe that the draft card burners and other anti-government groups must be shown that the Veterans whole heartedly support our government and its effort to stop the spread of communism.

The Veterans organizations suggest that if you are a veteran and eligible, now is a good time to join a group.

The William F Tattersall Chapter of the DAV, last night, offered to any citizen or civic organization of Wilmington, a place in the parade on Veterans Day, to offset the people in this country who will be marching to protest the war in Vietnam.

TOWN LEAGUE BASKETBALL

November 20th marks the beginning of this year's Wilmington Town League Basketball. All boys between the ages of 11 and 16 are eligible to play.

Any boy who would like to play this year and was not on a team last year, should report to the high school gym on November 20th at 12:30.

DR HENNEBERGER'S FIRST CALL

Dr Richard Henneberger paid a professional call, Tuesday night, on the Wilmington Planning Board. He was behind closed doors with his patient for about 40 minutes, and it was remarked after he left that the patient had never been as quiet and calm, in many years.

Of course Dick Henneberger is not a physician. The title is facetious, even if the story is true. The Town Charter of Wilmington gives the Town Manager the power to fire any non-elective office holder, or to abolish or consolidate many offices and/or boards, in the interests of efficiency.

For some weeks Henneberger has been receiving advice from all walks of life in this town that he should fire the members of the Planning Board, collectively, or individually. They are appointed to their posts, and collectively they have become the Sick Man of Wilmington.

Basically it is not the fault of the Planning Board that it has become the Sick Man. For six years it was an organization which was used, and abused, by successive town managers, including, too, some Selectmen. These people visited the board, not in the interests of 'good' government, but for reasons that may somehow be described as 'motives'.

The Planning Board was in need of good solid professional advice, and never got it.

So, the fact that Richard Henneberger chose to just talk with the Planning Board, Tuesday evening, makes that day a Red Letter Day. Perhaps nothing will come of it. Just exactly what was said is not known.

It can be guessed that Henneberger told the board that they had individual problems which they had to solve, and solve quickly. It may be guessed that he told some members, for instance, that they should attend meetings more regularly, and that he told others to stop acting for the benefit of audiences.

Anyway Henneberger chose the Honey Treatment instead of a wholesale or retail firing, at least as a temporary measure.

THE COST OF REVALUATION

It is estimated that the cost of the Revaluation which is being proposed for the Special Town Meeting of November 22nd will be $40,000. TM Richard Henneberger is hoping to keep it down to $35,000.

A little over thirteen months ago business men of Wilmington offered to pay, out of their own pocket books, for a complete revaluation of Wilmington, up to a cost of $40,000. The offer was made to the then Town Manager. It was never accepted.

Thinking, in Wilmington, a year ago, when the offer was made, was perhaps not clear.

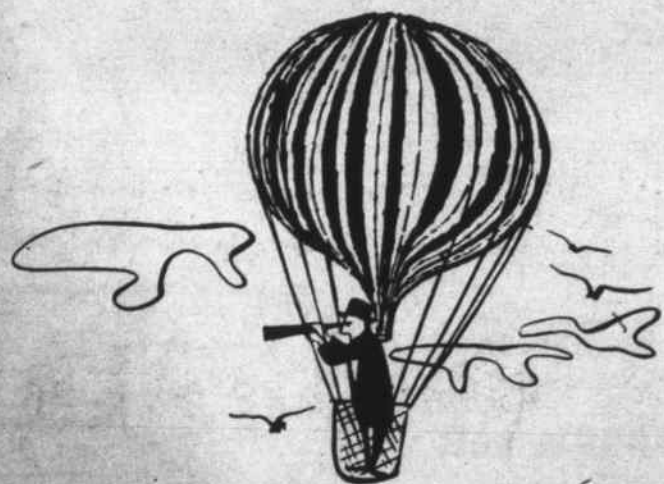

Perhaps it is not clear yet, but there have been many changes, and much water has flowed over the dam.

The people on Chestnut Street and Burlington Avenue have learned that they too could be 'hit', and that they, too, could be demanding a Revaluation.

It is interesting to note that some of them, in demanding a Revaluation, have told the Town Manager that any revaluation should not include the business properties that were 'hit' a year ago.

They are, in other words, selfish.

To better illustrate the events of the past, the Town Crier is hoping to reproduce this week the Minutes of the Selectmen's Meeting of August 24, 1964. It may help some of the readers to have a more clear picture of what went on in the past, and thus have a better understanding of what is involved in the Special Town Meeting of November 22nd.

HALLOWEEN 1965

A week ago Wilmington's Chief of Police, Paul J Lynch, suggested that the people of Wilmington observe Halloween on Sunday evening, instead of on Saturday, as was being suggested, it turned out, in out of town papers.

The chief's suggestions was followed by one by Harold Shea, Superintendent of Schools. Mr Shea in effect endorsed the Chief's thinking, as of safety to children.

Very gratifyingly it can now be reported that the people of Wilmington found themselves in full agreement with the Chief and the Superintendent.

In only a few instances were there Saturday evening calls by Trick-or-Treaters, and with them were apologies of the 'we won't be in town tomorrow' type.

Further, the Town Crier can report that the Champ, in the Trick or Treat Column (Giving) was Hoppy Baldwin of Baldwin's Alley.

Baldwin's Alley, of course, is Jones Avenue, up in the Silver Lake area, and Hoppy is the nickname for Wilfred Baldwin, one of the many of his clan.

Hoppy was host to a total of 186 Trick or Treat kids, before he ran out of supplies, Sunday evening.

NOT THE PROPER LIBRARY SITE

The Town Crier remains unconvinced that the site of Old St. Thomas Church is the ideal site for a new library for Wilmington.

It is romantic, yes, to think of a noble edifice facing a New England Common, and being handy to a school teeming with scholars.

But it isn't practical.

Principally because that school hasn't stopped growing from the day in 1951 when it was first opened, and the town has to give serious thought as to where the High School will go next.

Since 1951 there have been three additions to the High School. Next year the last of the seventh and eighth graders will be leaving for the new West Intermediate School.

In a few years, four or five perhaps, the town will be needing more space for its high school. In a dozen years the town will be considering a second or third addition, not being thought of at this time.

The easiest way to expand, and perhaps the only practical way, is towards Wildwood Street. Move the Roman House, and build in that direction, including using the space where the Tennis Court and Parking Spaces now are.

That will mean an expansion of land use, too.

Minutes of Selectmen's Meeting,
Aug. 26, 1964

August 26, 1964

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Selectmen was held at the Town Hall this date at 7:30 pm with all members present. Mr. Bouchard and his secretary, Mrs. Denault were also present. Mr. Buzzell and Mr. Grimes were present as requested.

The purpose of the meeting was to clarify the position of the Board of Selectmen as to certain allegations concerning their powers over the Board of Assessors. Mr. Buzzell was asked for his opinion in the matter.

A motion by Mr. Brooks to go into executive session was seconded, but lost.

Mr. Buzzell stated the Board of Assessors is a statutory body and their powers are defined by statute. Neither the Town Manager or the Board of Selectmen have any power over them. However, the Town Manager can remove them with a ten day notice and appoint. 'The taxpayers have their own remedy' he said.

Mr. Brooks: In preparation of the tax rolls, isn't there a constant check on properties? Some now and some later? Is this a custom?

Mr. Buzzell: Unavoidable - can not be done in one year.

Mr. Brooks: If the Assessors undertook such a practise, part one year and part another year, would this constitute action by citizens of the town?

Mr. Buzzell: No - individually.

Mr. Brooks: Could this practice be seized upon by a group of citizens?

Mr. Buzzell: No - he referred to the Springfield case. They admitted discrimination. It is a piece meal job. If the Assessors discover certain type of property has been undervalued it is not discrimination. He added that Boston residential properties are greatly undervalued. Down town properties are valued in many cases more than their fair cash value.

Mr. Bender: Is this assessing policy by physical review or by map?

Mr. Grimes: Both. Mr. Brooks: I am bothered by the fact that many individuals live in a rezoned area. Is there any temporary relief for them?

Mr. Grimes: Abatement if a hardship on individual basis.

Mr. Buzzell: The vote cannot be rescinded now the tax rate is set.

Mr. Bender: I understand some time ago a firm offered to make a land revaluation for $5,000. The town would have to vote the money. Can it be done at a Special Town Meeting? By implication does this Board have the directional control of the assessing area via Town Manager?

Mr. Black: If action is brought by ten citizens who think they are over

If there were nothing on the site of Old St. Thomas the Roman House, or a later day substitute could be erected there. But - not if there were a new library.

Evidence already presented indicates that the planned library will crowd the St. Thomas site.

The library in that position will not be of too much use to school children, in spite of the wishful thinking of some persons. Wilmington High School has a fine library, which is locked up at 3 pm every day. It is designed for high-schoolers.

The new public library should be located elsewhere than on the old St. Thomas site, and that site saved for the sure to come needs of school expansion assessed will it take two or three years before it will be taken care of?

Mr Buzzell: Would take two or three years.

Mrs Drew: Thought an injunction was going to be brought.

Mr Buzzell: Wouldn't get to first base.

Mr Black: They don't have to pay the tax to make application to the Board but do before going to Appellate Tax Board.

Mr John R Evans was present and was asked if he wished to speak He declined.

Mr Black: Has Town Counsel seen the resolution given by the Chamber of Commerce and what response should be given.

Mr Buzzell: The Selectmen can call a Special Town Meeting and ask for a revaluation of the town. The money to apply to next years figures.

Mr Grimes: Estimated it would cost at least $50,000. There are about 700 parcels now. The price would be considerably more than in 1955.

Mr Bouchard: Has the Principal Assessor arrived at the fact we should have a reappraisal? He must have felt it was something he could handle or otherwise he would have called it to my attention to have a reappraisal now.

Mr Bender: What percentage of land values have not changed?

Mr Grimes: About 70% on land and on houses about 35%.

Mr Bender: This was confined solely to industrial, commercial, etc?

Mr Grimes: There have been some residential changes also.

Mr Brooks: How did you select the properties? Did you deliberately eliminate some?

Mr Grimes: No - tried to achieve full fair cash values. Several hundred were hit.

Mr Bender: We live in this town. Was it the best solution? All properties should have been done. There is a solution to prevent any thing like this in the future.

Mr Bouchard: The answer is we can make suggestions, but it remains in the area of the Assessors

Mrs Drew: I feel sorry for those that cannot afford to pay.

Mr LaRivee: Agreed if the Board could help they would, I feel sorry if a person has been put in an area he didn't want to be put in. By law we are in a position not to be able to take any action at all.

Mrs Drew: Town Manager Form of Government has a good chance of being voted out because of this.

Mr Brooks: Everyone sympathizes with people receiving heavy tax bills. The homeowners are paying their own way and should be where profits are being made by industries, then they should pay.

The subject changed to a possible revaluation of the town.

Mr LaRivee: Then the only solution to satisfy everyone would be a reappraisal.

Mr Buzzell: Any group can call a Town Meeting and insert an article. My personal opinion is you would be wasting money. The assessors can do it better.

Mr Bender: Is it a piece meal job?

Mr Buzzell: Sure, Assessors can do it better.

Mr Bender: It would appear we have lost money over a period of years.

Mr Grimes: We will continue our program and I am willing to discuss problems anytime.

Mr Bender: If I could be assured a proper revaluation could be conducted on our own I would go along with it. Wary of our ability.

On considered advice of Town Counsel the Board of Selectmen have no authority to hold up establishment of a tax rate.

Mrs Drew: Some are hardship cases that should be looked into.

The chairman thanked Mr Buzzell for interrupting his vacation to appear this evening for the purpose of clarifying the Board's position in regard to the Assessing Department.

Mr John R Evans was present and asked to be heard. 'From information given by Mr Grimes the principal adjustments were on land rather than residential properties' He felt the Board should consider a land revaluation at this time, even if it cost $10,000 it would be worth it.

Mr Brooks: Would be interested in an up-to-date figure for a revaluation of land only, with a binding contract.

Mr Bender: Understand state funds are available.

Mr Grimes: He was asked to obtain figures for a reappraisal of the town.

(nothing else in the record of the meeting referred to the problem of reappraisals - ed.)

The Selectmen's Meeting

The Conservation Committee does not have the power to act in obtaining for the town the house lots set aside by development builders, for recreational purposes, according to the opinion rendered by Town Counsel Philip Buzzell.

Buzzell submitted his opinion to the Board of Selectmen in a letter read Monday night. The letter dealt with a series of questions submitted by the Conservation Commission concerning the houselots set aside for recreational purposes by builders of developments within the town. These lots, in accordance with the provisions set up by the Planning Board, are available to be bought by the town for a period of two years. The Conservation Committee had requested that the Board of Selectmen permit them to act for the town in obtaining the lots. After the two year period has elapsed, the builder may use the houselots as he sees fit.

Buzzell said that according to the General Laws, Chapter 4, Section 80C, the Conservation Committee's duties and powers relate specifically to wildlands and marshlands, and not to recreational lands. Any action to be taken on the house lots then, would be up to the Recreation Committee, the Planning Board, or the School Committee.

Town Manager Richard Henneberger reported to the Selectmen on the public meeting held last Thursday to discuss and review a 1958 Feasibility Report pertaining to sewers for the town.

Mr. Harold Kilgore of Whitman and Howard reviewed the 1958 report pointing out the problem of sewerage in Wilmington. In the discussion that followed, it was disclosed that Wilmington is eligible for Federal aid at this time which could amount to from 50% to 90%. It was also brought out that only 9% of the population of Massachusetts will be without sewerage when the systems now under construction are completed. The Committee will hold another public hearing this week to discuss methods of financing a municipal sewerage system.

Kendall Street

A group of residents from Kendall Street, led by Edward Melanson, appeared before the Board to request that something be done about the huge puddle of water which constantly blocks the entrance to Kendall Street.

Henneberger reported that he had received a letter from Town Engineer Al Savignac on the subject, which said that the road could be filled with concrete to the level of the water and the problem thus corrected.

Selectman Niles suggested that the Town Engineer meet with the residents of the street to make sure that correcting the situation will not cause the water to drain onto someone's property. The other members of the Board concurred, making it clear that they did not want to create any problems for property owners in solving the street problem.

Town Accounting

Town Accountant Robert Peters met briefly with the Board to report that a current accounting for the town would be available for the Finance Committee in advance of the next Special Town Meeting.

Mrs. Drew asked Peters if there was any money available in the budget this year for a public land auction. 'I'm afraid not,' was Peters' reply.

Town Manager's Report

The TM's report included a request from the Board of Registrars, a report on the Nichols Street Bridge, and a report on the appointment of a Community Action Committee.

Henneberger said that the Board of Registrars had requested $204.53 to take care of their own salaries. Niles pointed out that the Registrars still have a balance of $943.00, and moved to table the request until after the October accounting. The motion passed unanimously.

The County Commissioners have accepted the Nichols Street Bridge, Henneberger reported, but the order is conditional upon state money. Therefore, the town must wait until the state legislature votes the budget before taking any action.

The Commonwealth Service Corps has approached the town to appoint a minimum of 15 individuals to serve on a Community Action Committee. The program, in conjunction with the Federal Anti-Poverty Programs, would provide a means for employing on a part-time basis youths who have dropped out of school or potential dropouts by governmental jurisdictions, such as the Town, to work on worthwhile projects with the Federal government backing up to 90% of the costs, and the town could provide its 10% in the way of office space, administration, and supervision.

The TM requests that any residents of Wilmington interested in serving on this committee should contact him at the Town Hall.

Paul E. Flynn of 15 Gowing Road, had contacted the TM to find out what was to be done about the right of way taken away from him when Route 93 was built, but which, if Barbo's Industrial Park is built, will fall in the buffer zone between the Park and the adjacent residential area. Niles said it was a matter of agreement between Barbo and Mr. Flynn. Bender suggested that Flynn might call Roland Wood, who is representing the abutters to the Industrial Park area.

Sunday License

A request for a Sunday License by Mr. Vodala of 33 Burlington Avenue was unanimously granted by the Board.

Jurors

The name of Marjorie LaRivee of 64 Concord Street was drawn for the Cambridge Jury Pool, and Alice I. Downs of 16 Birchwood Road was selected for Civil Court in Lowell.

Power Committee

The nomination of Stanley Webber as the 5th member of the Power Committee was unanimously approved by the Board. The Committee is scheduled to hold its second meeting this week.

Teenage Vandalism

At the close of the business of the meeting, Bender recounted several incidents of teenage vandalism in North Wilmington. He told of one particular incident in which two teenage boys were insolent to a Wilmington policeman. 'It's tragic that the kids are this fresh, or this wild,' said Bender. Bender issued an appeal to the parents of teenagers to care enough about their children to know where they are at night. The solution to the teenage problem, Bender said, lies in the homes of Wilmington.

Is your home as quiet as you would like it to be? Two places that seem to create the most noise are hallways and stairways, especially if there are children in the house. And these two areas are the most dangerous, too.

Carpeting on your stairways and in your hallways could reduce the amount of noise by more than 50%. And carpeting in those areas will make them safer for your children and for those guests who come to call.

Of course, loose carpeting can be dangerous. But, if they are properly anchored and installed, it will be safer, and wear longer, too.

Buying carpeting need not be an expensive proposition. We have many styles and fabrics to choose from, and just about any color and design to match your furnishings. You'll find prices to fit your budget, too.

ST. THOMAS CYO SLAVE AUCTION

Slave auctions are certainly not popular today. But it is popular to help and be of service to others.

In order to do this, 30 volunteer slaves, members of St. Thomas CYO, will be auctioned off Saturday evening at Villanova Hall during a Spaghetti Supper. They have volunteered to be slaves to help others. The funds raised by this supper and Slave Auction will be bringing help and happiness to many. These young people will be auctioned off to the highest bidder to do a variety of jobs: Babysitting, cleaning your cellar, raking leaves, washing windows, etc. For a minimal amount you can purchase a strong, able-bodied volunteer to finally do that job that you have not been able to get to.

The Spaghetti Supper will be served from 5 to 7 pm Saturday at Villanova Hall. All are invited, and the price is reasonable -- $1 adults, 75¢ for students or $3 for the whole family. The supper and Slave Auction are part of St. Thomas CYO week Celebration.

The week began last Saturday with a tremendous Halloween dance. Over 300 high school students enjoyed the music of the Warlocks. Monday of this week over 250 also took part in a Twilight Retreat from 4:30 to 8:15. The Retreat was conducted by Fr. Thomas Bogardus of Austin Prep in Reading. Thursday afternoon, a good number will be going to Tewksbury State Hospital to visit and cheer the sick.

Friday evening, two excellent films 'Ask me, Don't tell me' and the 'Reluctant Saint' with Maximilian Schell will be shown at 7:30 (admission 50¢). The program will come to a close on Sunday morning with the Annual CYO Communion Breakfast after the 8:15 Mass. Awards will be given to the outstanding CYO members and the guest speaker will be Mr. John Cort, Director of the Commonwealth Service Corps, and former director of the Peace Corps in the Philippines.

The theme of the whole week is 'Youth, An Instrument for Peace'.

Danny Gillis on a Safari

Danny Gillis, of the Wilmington Planning Board, conducted a One Man Safari into the area between Concord Street and Park Street, and East of Route 93, last Sunday.

Because of the many reports as to the type of land involved Gillis wanted to see for himself.

AT THE ENTRANCE: To an old gravel pit, dating from Route 93 construction, Gillis eases his car past a blockade of granite blocks and cars of employees of the Eastern Airlines, who seem to form a car-pool at this point.

LOTS OF GRAVEL: And very little ledge; was Gillis' verdict as he surveyed the terrain at a point just about in its center.

NORTH READING PUMPING STATION: Is given the Once Over by Gillis. Drainage seemed to be away from the pumping station and towards the proposed industrial center.

AN ABANDONED DODGE: Found where no car should be, deep in the woods, on top of a gravel hill in the Anderson property, on East side of proposed industrial development

Bender told his fellow Selectmen that the Wilmington police were doing very good work, in controlling vandalism, that the five men on a 'shift' had a lot of territory to cover, and that the police dogs were of great value to the people of Wilmington.

Praise Fire Department

The entire Board heaped praise upon the Fire Department for the way they handled the extinguishing of the brush fire on Route 93, Sunday evening. Some of the firemen, it was reported, stayed on duty all that windy night to make sure the fire did not come to life again.

The Board adjourned at 9:30 pm to go into executive session with Bob Leahy, Chairman of the Building By-Law Committee.

Salem Street

Ralph Peterson of Salem Street came to the Selectmen's Meeting shortly after 10 pm just as it was about to adjourn.

He bore with him a petition with about 100 signatures, relative to traffic safety on Salem Street. Peterson told the Selectmen that loaded gravel trucks were traveling at a high rate of speed on the street, endangering the children, and in addition sometimes spilling gravel. On one occasion he had followed one to Middlesex Avenue before he had been able to catch up, he told the Selectmen.

Peterson had two suggestions. One, that the street be closed to trucking, and two, that there be a yellow line painted, all the way along Salem Street, so as to force automobiles to keep to the right side.

Mrs. Drew, Chairman, told Peterson that because Salem Street was a Chapter 90 Highway she had her doubts that the town would be able to do anything as suggested, and that, in any case, there had to be an alternate route provided, if the town were to propose cutting off truck traffic.

The matter was then put in the hands of the Town Manager.

RICHARD McHUGH ATTENDS POLICE COURSE

Patrolman Richard J. Mc Hugh 59 Church Street has completed the Metropolitan District Police 'keep sharp' course at the Middlesex Fells Division in Medford.

The one week training program incorporates the latest developments in law enforcement and covers, among other areas, the procedures for arrest, search & seizure, and narcotics violations.

25 officers, drawn from eight M.D.C. police divisions attended this class as a follow up to an initial two weeks course. MDC Commissioner Howard Whitmore, Jr., and Police Supt. William J. McCarthy developed the plans for the program.

Letter

Dear Larz:

About one year ago last September, the town sent the highway department down to Grant Street to get rid of a puddle of water in the street.

They had a surveyer and said they were going to lay out the road so the water would run down on the railroad.

After digging up the road and putting the water lines lower, they found themselves with the road below the level of the railroad.
So now they say they have to make the road lower so the water will run the other way down on Federal Street.

All we have to show for their work is a mud hole and a bigger puddle.

Last winter the town truck would not come down to plow out the snow. One time my wife called the former Town Manager and he sent down the Froton truck. Another time I asked Jimmy White why we were not getting the street plowed and he sent the Froton truck down again and he did a good job.

We have a rock about five feet high in the middle of the street.
Maybe they want us to put a rock garden around it.

Last year I could not use my driveway for five weeks. They filled it in later but it is like driving up Mount Washington. They cut down five trees this year to make the road wider. Who knows maybe they will take out the stumps next year.

At the rate they are going, it will take about four or five years for the town to have it fit for use.

HIGH SCHOOLERS LOST TO WELLESLEY

Wilmington High School students who appeared on the TV Show
'Dateline Boston', last Saturday, in competition to students from Wellesley High School came out second best.

The students seemingly were stumped on some questions that the audience was ready to answer
- one of them being to identify a Blue Jay, and the TV audience, as may be expected, had its reaction. The Town Crier, this week, received from one of its readers,
a picture of a Blue Jay, and there have been other reactions.

The students, Mary Keough,
Don Coolidge, Peter Malatesta, and Richard Shurtleff, with Arthur Dyer as a 'standby', were on their first TV appearance. Wellesley, being the defending champion, had had previous experience.

The appearance was different than it seemed to the TV audience.
The students were among cables and other paraphenalla, and didn't immediately react to questions.
They did improve as the show went on, and the students gained confidence.

Dr. Farello, head of the High School Science Department, told the Town Crier that she was unable to either see the pictures which were shown, or hear the questions.
She believes that if the Wilmington youngsters had a 'warm-up' or 'practice period' in which to become accustomed to the surroundings, they would have done much better.

Human Rights Committee

The Wilmington Committee on Human Rights elected the officers for the coming year at the recent October meeting.

The elected officers are Paul

Coester, Secretary-Treasurer;

Paul W. Berube, Publicity Chairman. The by-laws were accepted at this meeting.

The Committee is a non-profit organization and is an outgrowth of a public demonstration at the time of the Selma protest. Its purpose is to promote equal opportunity in the town of Wilmington without discrimination because of race, religion or national origin, and to place before the residents of Wilmington the problem of prejudice in an effort to discover its roots and eliminate it from the life of the town and its people.

Membership is open to all residents of Wilmington and other interested parties.

The Committee will endeavor to promote human rights through education and will strive to acquaint the citizens of Wilmington with ing practices. Interested persons
